An Introduction to Co-production: Training

What is the session about?

We will talk about the principles of co-production and how we can all use these in our work and practices. There's lots of group work and discussions that bring co-production to life, and make it relatable to the things that you do.

Who is it for?

- It's for all staff, people who use our services, and those who care for them.
- We also encourage anyone who might be interested in learning how to become a co-facilitator for future training to come along and find out more.

When and Where is the training?

- Tuesday 28 January, 12.30pm to 3.30pm at the Irish Cultural Centre, 5 Black's Road, Hammersmith W6 9DT.
  Light lunch will be provided and the room is accessible via stairs or a lift.
- Thursday 13 February, 9.30am to 12.30pm online via Zoom.

Spaces are limited so to register, or for more information please:
